PROHIBITION VICTORY

No More Booze For Empire State of the South.

AN OVERWHELMING DEFEAT

By a Vote of 139 to 39, the Georgia Legislature Has Said that the Legalized Traffic in Whiskey Must Cease.

Atlanta, Aug. 1.—By a majority of just one hundred votes [illegible] house of representatives passed the Hardman-Covington-Nee. prohibition bill, with the amendments of the temperance committee of the house and two minor amendments introduced by Mr. Wright of Floyd and Mr. Wise, of Fayette, at 7:53 o'clock Tuesday night, after a day which had been spent in consideration of the measure and the flood of amendments and substitutes which had been introduced.

Ends Remarkable Contest.

Thus ends one of the most remarkable fights ever known in the state of Georgia; a fight which means the wiping out of the legalized liquor traffic in a state which has never been free from it since Georgia was a state; a fight which came as an overwhelming surprise to the whiskey element and the anti-prohibition forces of the state, and was pushed forward with an amazing force and determination.

Antis Fought to Last.

Weeks ago anti-prohi[illegible] of Georgia g[illegible] e co[illegible] unequal. T[illegible] contending agains[illegible] that the sentiment [illegible] overwhelmingly in favor of [illegible] tion,, and the best they could hope for was an extension of time in which the bill should go into effect, or a modification of some of its more stringent provisions.

To this latter phase of the fight the anti-prohibition element gave all its strength in the last days of the fight. They lined up in solid phalanx and contested every point with desperation.

It was all of no avail.

The prohibitionists, confident of their strength, conceded nothing—would not admit that a concession of some kind devolved upon them—and made the victory the most sweeping and complete of any state in the United States voting on a similar measure.

The result of the vote was 139 for, to 39 against prohibition.

Thus ends a remarkable fight in the legislative halls of Georgia.

Most Important Act in State's History

StateistoryofH5 12 ov5 goivbgvbg

"I, of course, consider the passage of the state prohibition bill the most important act in the history of the state," said Judge Co[illegible]gton. "Economically considered, it is of more importance than the introduction of a hundred thousand desirable laborers. Again, the south must cease to sell liquor to negroes. This is the first step in the solution of the great problems that confront us. It is, therefore, a life-and-death case with the southern people. In my opinion, the white people of Georgia could have voted on this measure, stripped of everything else, would at any time during the past ten years have voted for the principle of the bill by an overwhelming majority. We have given the state prohibition by the 'painless process.' There may be some features in the bill that will be found to be too drastic. If so, we will fix all that when we come here again next summer. I think there never was such conscientious action on any great measure. I am quite sure every vote for or against the bill was directed by conscience. It is a great body of men. We have gone through it all with practically no harsh feelings or unfair tactics."

Provision of Bill Will Work Hardship

"Now that the bill has passed there is very little use to discuss it," said Mr. Dunbar, of Richmond, "until it goes into effect, when all good citizens will doubtless do what they can to give it a fair trial and see if it can be made to succeed. The pro[illegible]

[illegible] sick people [illegible] [illegible] use of beer [illegible] is entirely [illegible] work great hardships. I believe a great majority of the intelligent physicians of our state will agree with me in this. We tried to, but could not amend this. As far as the feature of making people, whom we have licensed for years, close out their business in six months, especially breweries, I consider it simply confiscation, and I could not approve my state doing a thing I would not do myself. The bill will, of course, not prevent the shipment of liquor into Georgia—we cannot do that—and that is the weak point in all such bills. They simply promote the shipment from other states into Georgia, and encourage secret drinking, deception and bootlegging unless backed, locally, an overwhelming public sentiment in their favor."

A VERY TIGHT LID.

Sunday Closing Campaign In Chattanooga, Tenn.

Bellingham, Wash., Aug. 1.—A Every confession in the parks of this city will be closed next Sunday and a campaign to close every store and soda fountain in Hamilton county on the first day of the week will be organized before the end of the week. If the present intention of the East Chattanooga refreshment stand and lunch counter proprietors are carried out.

Enraged because members of the East Chattanooga Baptist church last Sunday had them arrested and haled before a justice of the peace, where they submitted their cases on payment of fines of $2 each, the business [illegible]n say they will carry the matter [illegible]ther and make the entire county so [illegible]at that a newspaper cannot be bought on the Sabbath.

Considerable feeling has been shown in the matter, and all of East Chattanooga and Sherman Heights is now in an uproar.

YOUNG WIFE SHOOTS SELF.

Mrs. J. A. Burney, Daughter-in-Law of Legislator, Loses Life.

West Point, Ga., Aug. 1.—Mrs. J. A. Burney, the handsome young wife of only a few months of a prosperous merchant, accidentally shot herself in the abdomen with a 38 caliber Swith & Wesson pistol, causing death.

The accident occurred at her home in Farett.

Mrs. Burney was lying across the bed when found, with the pistol beside her. She did not regain consciousness before her death. Those who heard the pistol and hurried ot her room found that the shot had set fire to her clothing.

Mrs. Burney was Miss Helen Durst, of Philadelphia., Pa., before her marriage to Mr. Burney, whose father is now a member of the Alabama legislature.

Wage Earners' Institution.

New York, Aug. 1.—A charter for the organization of a $10,000,000 wage earners' banking and investment institution, it is announced, will be filed in Albany. The new association is called the Wage Earners' Capital Alliance, and its stockholders will mainly be made of the laboring classes. The shares have a par value of $1 each, which will enable those with small incomes to make easy investments. The company obtained a charter at Guthrie, Okla., on last Wednesday and plans to conduct its business in all of the states of the country.

Americans Wed in London.

London, July 31.—Frank Gra Griswold, of New York, and Mrs. Josephine Canfield, widow of A. Cass Canfield, of Chicago, were married at St. Andrews, Westminster, Monday. The ceremony was a quiet one. Ambassador Reid and Secretary Carter, of th eembassy, were among the half dozen friends of the contracting parties present.

Octogenarian Electrocuted.

Auburn, N. Y., Aug 1.—Charles Bonier, 80 years of age, of Buffalo, convicted of the murder of Franz and Johanna Friehl, was electrocuted at Auburn Wednesday morning.

BACKS TAFT'S BOOM

War Secretary Endorsed by the Ohio State Committee.

OPPOSED BY SEN. FORAKER

Senior Senator, It Is Said, Openly Voiced His Dissent to tre Proposition on the Eve of Committee Meeting.

Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—The candidacy of William H. Taft, secretary of war, for the republican nomination for president, was indorsed by the republican state committee Tuesday by a vote of 15 to 6. The indorsement carries with it a declaration that the republicans of Ohio are opposed "to the elimination from public life of Senators Foraker and Dick."

Although beaten by a decisive vote in all the preliminary contests, the adherents of Senator Foraker in the committee refused to accept the olive branch extended by the Taft supporters, and when the resolution, as amended, was finally adopted, no effort was made to make the action of the committee unanimous.

The indorsement of Secrtary Taft's candidacy by the republican state central committee was vigorously opposed by Senator Foraker, who, upon the eve of the meeting of the committee, openly voiced his dissent to the proposition. The senior senator from Ohio controlled seven of the twenty-nine members of the committee on all votes except that taken upon the adoption of the resolution indorsing Taft. A. W. McDonald, of the sixteenth district broke with the Foraker forces on the final ballot, which stood 15 to 6.

ALL-AMERICAN SERVICE.

Direct Line Has Been Laid From New York to Colon.

New York, Aug. 1.—Commercial service will be begun August 1, over the new all-American cable laid directly from New York to Colon by the Central and South American Telegraph company. James A. Scrymser, president of the corporation, has sent telegrams to President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft, notifying them of the fact.

In replying, Secretary Taft said:

"It gives me great relief to know that there is a direct and all-American cable of that sort between New York and Colon and Guantanamo, and I congratulate the company on the enterprise it has shown in building it."

William Delvins, special counsel, will then start his inquiry into the operating methods of the companies.

QUEER CASE, THIS.

Ohio Woman Becomes Insane on the Subject of Insanity.

Toledo, O., Aug. 1.—Insane on the subject of insanity and knowing that she is insane, Jennie Buckner, aged 48, walked into the probate court Tuesday and asked for Judge Merrill.

"Judge, I am insane. I feared insanity and made a study of it. The more I thought of it the more insane I became. I am being persecuted, and I am dangerous. You'd better send me out to the hospital."

Judge Merrill ordered the woman taken to the state hospital.

Held as Suspects.

Macon, Ga., Aug. 1.—Three boys of Dublin, Ga., Harry Smith, Floyd Hightower and Charlie Rush, are held at the city police barracks as suspects and will be given a hearing. They were arrested when found trying to dispose of a horse and buggy and a revolver at a very low price. Thinking that there was something wrong in the deal, the trio was locked up.

Sigma Chi Elects Officers.

New York, Aug. 1.—The fraternity of Sigma Chi has elected lieutenant Governor Eason, of Virginia, consul, E. A. Stein, of Milwaukee, chairman of credentials committee, W. N. Battey, annotator, and S. W. Davidson, of Austin, Tex., custos.

SENATOR PETTUS BURIED.

Funeral of Late Statesman at Selma, Ala.

Selma, Ala., Aug. 1.—The funeral of the late Senator Edmund W. Pettus, who died suddenly at Hot Springs, N. C., took place here Tuesday from his late residence.

Interment was in Live Oak cemetery, where less than two months ago his late colleague, Senator John T. Morgan, was laid to rest. Senator Pettus' funeral was attended by the greatest honor ever paid an Alabama citizen. The members of the legislature, Governor Comer and members of his staff, former Governor Joseph F. Johnston, who will succeed Senator Pettus in the senate, and the various state officials attended the funeral. In addition thousands of citizens thronged the city to pay their tribute of love to the dead senator.

The funeral services at the home consisted of reading of the old time Presbyterian ritual and were conducted by Rev. S. G. Rawlings, of the First Presbyterian church. They were very simple.

The procession to the cemetery in addition to the Second Infantry, included troop C., cavalry and battery C, of artillery. The members of Camp Jones, United Confederate Veterans, acted as a special guard if honor.

The entire city was bedecked in mourning and all business houses were closed during the funeral.

MANY NEW PLANTS.

Wonderful Development Shown for Georgia and Alabama.

Columbus, Ga., Aug. 1.—I has been published that twenty-one new industrial and manufacturing plants to be established, two new railroads projected, sixty-two buildings of substatial character to be constructed, proposed municipal improvements to cost over $300,000 and twenty new corporations, with total minimum capital stock of $575,750 are consolidated items of advance reports for the week that illustrate the steady development and upbuilding in progress in Georgia and Alabama.

The figures, though large, are not unusual. Figures are reported week after week and they explain why the 37 Georgia counties that so far have sent tax digests to the state comptroller's office show a net gain last year. They explain, too, why the eyes of the American business world are upon Georgia and Alabama, as never before in their history, and why more and more capital is being placed with that which demonstrates profitable investment in the two states.

Coincident with the general upbuilding is an increasing demand for lands of all kinds and a steady upward tendency of prices.

SUICIDE LEFT NOTE.

Asked To Be Excused for Taking Life on Premises.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 1.—An unknown man, supposed to be S. P. Long, of Plaquemine, La., committed suicide in Bohanan & Co.'s gunsmith store in this city Tuesday.

The man entered the store and asked to see a pistol, stating he wished to make a purchase for a friend. Several weapons were shown him. He selected one, deliberately placed a cartridge in a chamber, walked to the door and fired into the left temple. He died almost instantly. In the pocket was a note reading:

"To the Hardware Company: You will excuse my suicide in your house. Suicide is not murder, why not execution. (Signed) S. P. Long."

This note has been accepted as evidence of deliberately planned self-destruction. Examination of effects and papers on the man's person induced the belief that he was in financial distress.

Acqueduct Caved In.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 1.—The bed of the acqueduct carrying the Erie canal over Onondaga creek, in this city, fell out Tuesday afternoon, the great suction of the water drawing into a vortex five canal boats which were moored at the docks of the Empire Flouring mills and the Greenway brewery, adjacent. Fifty feet of the Empire mill fell in,, but no loss of life is reported.

MYSTERY IS CLEARED

Suicide of Amos Rumbaugh at Colorado Springs.

WAS FROM PENNSYLVANIA

Rather Than Testify at the Inquest Over Friend's Body, He Shot Himself, Dying a Few Hours Later in the St. Francis Hospital.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 1.—Amos R. Rumbach, who shot himself Tuesday rather than testify at the inquest over the body of his friend, Miss Laura Matthews, died Wednesday at the St. Francis hospital.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 31.—The suicide of Amos Rumbach, at Colorado Springs has cleared the mystery of his disappearance from his home at Mt. Pleasant, Pa., near here, two weeks ago.

Rumbach was married, and was one of the most prominent citizens of Mt. Pleasant. Two weeks ago last Monday he left home without indicating to his wife or relatives whither he was going, or why, and until now all efforts to locate him were unavailing.

Tuesday his wife, despairing of his return, had her household effects packed and was prepared to leave for the home of her father, A. C. Ruff, at Loudonville, O.

As the result of an informal investigation, however, she will defer her departure for the present, and Charles Rumbach, a brother, will go to Colorado Springs.

Amos Rumbach was a private in company E, of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers and served with distinction with that regiment in the Spanish-American war. His relatives say they never heard of Laura Matthews, or the Coy mentioned in the Colorado Springs dispatches.

REACHES "GRAVE" STATE.

Unions Fight Over What Constitutes a Union Coffin.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—The fight between the woodworkers and carpenters' unions here has reached the grave. They are now fighting over what constitutes a union coffin. The Union Burial association, not being satisfied with the product turned out by the only union casket builder in Chicago, has succeeded in unionizing a coffin factory in Lena, Ill., and this product bears the label of the Carpenters' union, while the article built in Chicago is stamped with the woodworkers' mark of approval.

"No self-respecting member of the woodworkers will even consent to be buried in a box built by the carpenters," declared Thomas Coone, secretary of the woodworkers.

"We will introduce a resolution at our next regular meeting adopting cremation as the final disposition of our bodies rather than let the carpenters put it over us in the matter of coffin construction."

Forest Fires Raging.

Bellingham, Wash., July 31.—A fire which threatens to do thousands of dollars' worth of damage, is raging in the timber north of Birdview, Skagill county, and unless a soaking rain comes soon, millions of feet of standing timber will be destroyed. This fire now presents a front of 4 miles wide, and is rapidly sweeping up from the valley of the Skagil river northward. A big fire is also raging in Snohomish county, north of the town of Index, settlers and campers are fleeing.

Rebel Attempts Defeated.

Havana, Aug. 1.—An official report of the disturbance at San Luis Saturday night says it was a continuation of the recent revolutionary attempts th[illegible] The number of would be insurgents was small and they scattered a[illegible]he rural guards appeared.

Journalist Dies.

London, Aug. 1.—The death is announced of Joseph Hatton, the author and journalist. He was born in 1841.

SENATOR EDMUND WINSTON PETTUS

One of Most Picturesque Figures With Ever Graced Senate.

ONE OF THE FORTY-NINERS

He Was the Grandson of a Revolutionary Veteran of Two Wars. Once Title of Brigadier-General in Militia of Alabama.

(Atlanta Constitution.)

The death of the venerable Senator from Alabama removes one of the most picturesque figures who ever graced the Senate of the United States by many years.

The grandson of a revolutionary soldier, one of the forty-niners who made the overland across the continent during the gold fever in California, every ambitious young man sought his fortune in this new land, a veteran of two wars, bearing the title of brigadier-general, an example of the sixties, combining with a strong, a rugged character, one of the old type of statesmen, the kind who put honor above personal consideration, and knew the call of duty is a command, will not soon forget [illegible] to principle, his faithfulness to constituents and his loyalty to his country on the floor of the United States Senate will often be recalled, yet kindly old man [illegible] seventy-eighth year, regularly [illegible] the floor and labored way [illegible] where duty suggest [illegible] deliberations. [illegible] old feeble, there was [illegible] of the iron constitution of the pioneer in his movements. His mind was alert and [illegible] country will recall with [illegible] comes from the heart [illegible] friendly tributes [illegible] and hearty old man [illegible] was paid to his departure on the floor. Though [illegible] his leader in point of [illegible] John T. Morgan was [illegible] of Senator Pettus. The paternal, [illegible] care of the older [illegible] and less robust colleague, such as a manly [illegible] would throw [illegible] child of six. [illegible] years' standing. [illegible] came town in Alabama so long. It seems a [illegible] of Providence that [illegible] these two grand old [illegible] as often aroused the [illegible] of the highest law-[illegible] in the American union, [illegible] the sentiments of their [illegible] state, should within [illegible] of each other have been [illegible] silence of eternal [illegible]

Shaking Starlike on Glass.

When the [illegible] through the friction crumbles [illegible] the loosely combined mixture [illegible] the temperature rises to the [illegible] of ignition; hence, given the composition of the match head, the two [illegible] which answer the question [illegible] the comparative smoothness [illegible] glass and its imperfect conductivity of heat.

The Tallest Men of Europe.

The tallest men of Europe are found [illegible] Normandy, Yorkshire and [illegible] district of Belgium. Prussia has her tallest recruits from Silesia, [illegible] the original home of the Germans; Austria from the Tyrolese highlands. The Raven.

Many birds seek the protection which the presence of man affords against furred and feathered foes when the breeding season approaches. Not so the raven. Its distrust of us is profound, and its nest is placed in some wild spot far out of reach of our possible attack or succor. But there are other enemies. I know of a pair that built on the side of a projecting crag high up on the cliffs of Rathlin island. Some fierce peregrine falcons occupied the other side of the crag, and when one day their eggs were taken by an adventurous collector they, sharing the popular opinion of a raven's blackness, concluded that their neighbors were the offenders and wreaked their grief and vengeance upon them. When, on their return from a foraging expedition, the falcons found their nest despoiled they were seen to hold a consultation, and after much deliberation they suddenly arose and both in one accord flew at the ravens' nest and sacked it, tearing it in their rage and indignation until not one stick was left upon another.—London Standard.

The Sun, the Moon and the Tides.

Most persons suppose that the moon alone is responsible for the phenomenon of tides, but the attraction of the sun is also an important factor. Of course the distance of the sun from the earth is unthinkably greater than that of the moon, but its mass is so enormous that it has a considerable tide producing influence. The force which the sun exerts is the same on both sides of the earth at the same time, the tide producing force of the great orb being about four-tenths that of the moon. At the time of both new and full moons the "wane spheroids produced by both the sun and the moon have their axes coincident"—that is to say, the two great orbs unite their energies on the fluids of our planet, and as a result the tides are higher than the average for the remaining portions of the month. These are the "spring tides." The "neap tides" come in the time of the moon's first and third quarter and are not as great as the average, because the moon and the sun are each working in opposition to the other.

The Ambitious Boy.

A boy at seventeen can practically determine for himself whether he will be a simple burden bearer for others as long as he lives, a leech on society or whether he will be a broadminded, useful and successful man. If the boy at this age has no ambition to be anybody and is content to simply let things flicker and take his chance with others just like him, frittering away his opportunities to acquire knowledge and caring only for the trivialities of life, he can make up his mind to carry a hod, ride the brake beam of a freight car or dodge the police as long as he lives, or he can resolve to be a man in the highest sense, seek every means for physical, mental and moral growth and development and must graduate into the ever widening field of utility and success. It matters little what his boyhood environment may be, if he but has the ambition and well grounded purpose he will climb out of it.—Pittsburg Press.

FREAK SCHEMES.

Novel English Suggestions For the Relief of the Unemployed.

At a meeting of unemployed held recently in Manchester a speaker suggested that the government should commence tunneling to the most northerly part of the world the [illegible]. It would provide labor for [illegible] years and years. If Great Britain were to subscribe several hundreds of millions of pounds it might be possible to construct a tunnel through some 700 miles of snow in a century or two, but it is permissible to wonder whether the country would be able to foot the bill without breaking down altogether.

A novel suggestion for employing the unemployed was made by Jules Braile, a Belgian living in London, in 1848, when distress among the working classes was particularly rife in this country. This gentleman approached Lord John Russell, the then prime minister, and said that the government should set the unemployed digging a gigantic hole, three miles in circumference, straight down through the center of England. After the hole had been sunk to a depth of several miles, Jules Braile declared that so much subterranean heat would be available that the country would be placed far beyond all other manufacturing nations, but in exactly what way he was unable to point out.

A member of the Poplar borough council once suggested that the government should aid the unemployed by starting to build a road right round the coasts of England and Scotland. Naturally enough, the goverament would not listen to such a scheme. They considered it as wild and impracticable as one suggested to them by an old gentleman a little time previously. This man wanted the government to marshal all the unemployed in London and the provinces in brigades and employ them in erecting enormous high walls in various parts of the country. The walls were to be of sufficient height to arrest the clouds. In this way the rainfall would be modified, and hundreds of acres of waste land would be rendered fit for cultivation.

A little while back another crank suggested that all the unemployed should be taken over to the Sahara desert and set to work to convert that giant blot upon the map into an inland sea by cutting a number of canals. If this were done, he said, ships would be able to sail down to fertile regions now unapproachable and which must be worth hundreds of millions of pounds.

A labor M. P. suggested at a public meeting some time ago that national workshops should be established in every city in England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales wherein any man could claim work and good wages as a matter of right. There was nothing particularly novel in this suggestion. Years ago national workshops were opened in Paris, and it was expected that they would solve the unemployed problem. No sooner were the workshops thrown open than the idle and the incompetent flocked into the capital from every quarter of France and claimed work. Under the circumstances the government thought it wise to close the workshops. The result was a riot, in which several thousands of persons were killed and wounded, and nearly £1,500,000 worth of property was destroyed.—London Graphic.

Martyrs to Snoring.

The young bride had a worn and haggard look.

"Doctor," she said, "I am in strange trouble. I have discovered that my husband snores. He snores dreadfully. It is impossible for me to sleep. Since our marriage, over three weeks ago, I haven't had a good night's rest. I fear my health will give way."

The physician smiled sadly.

"The snore," he said, "and the trouble it causes to the newly married! If any one could invent a cure for the snore he would grow rich, for every snorer's mate would buy and administer this remedy.

"You, like many another good and pretty girl, have unconsciously wedded a snorer. What are you to do? Well, you have three courses. You may either learn to endure this noise or you may sleep in another room or you may cure the man.

"What you, like other wives, will do is this—I know it well: You will learn, after unspeakable torment, to sleep through all those gurgles and snorts and yowls that now lacerate your nerves. Nearly all wives acquire this faculty of endurance, and many husbands also acquire it, for I don't need to tell you that snoring is not confined exclusively to one sex."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE OAK HALLS 3. PALATKA 1

Sneats Was Pitching for the Oak Halls and Had the Palatka Team at His Mercy—Team Will Be Still Further Strengthened.

Once again the lusty celebrated Oak Hall base ball team that has done so much to advertise the city of Gainesville in the past as well as furnished amusement for the people during the summer months are playing winning ball.

Palatka went down in defeat before the great pitching of Sheats in a swiftly contested game of 3 to 1.

This sounds like the good old days of several summers ago when every team that ever opposed the Oak Balls went down in defeat.

Dr. G. B. Tison, who is managing the team has collected and got into line a good crowd of ball players, who are going to practice regularly and will furnish a good class of ball.

It takes money to run a ball team, so when the boys come home let everybody attend the games and show the boys that we are with them.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Public Works of the City of Gainesville, Florida, on Thursday, August 8th, 1907, at 3 o'clock p. m. at the office of W. W. Hampton, secretary, for constructing approximately x miles of 4-inch sewer house laterals. Specifications may be obtained on application. A certified check in the sum of $500, made payable to Board of Public Works, must accompany each bid, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract should the work be awarded to him. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. W. W. HAMPTON,
Secretary Board of Public Works.

ITCHING PIMPLES TORMENT 5 BOYS

Arms and Hands Affected—Could Not Sleep Because of Itching—Suffered for Two Months Until Two Cakes of Cuticura Soap and ONE BOX OF CUTICURA CURED THEM ALL

"I have five boys from five to seven years. Four, who were affected some time last winter by a certain kind of skin disease. The worst parts of the body were around the arms and hands where small pimples formed and itched. These suffered for two months so that they could not sleep at night. I noticed an advertisement about the Cuticura Remedies and we made a trial of one of two cakes of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment which gave great satisfaction. I washed their bodies with Cuticura Soap and then applied Cuticura Ointment every other day. Since then they have all been healthy." A. E. Carlson, Norcross, Travers Co., Minn., Nov. 20 and Dec. 23, 1906."

WORST ECZEMA

Baffled Medical Treatment For a Year, Cured by Cuticura.

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black splotches all over my face and a few on my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of suffering. I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of ——. After a thorough examination of the dreaded complaint they announced it to be skin eczema in its worst form. They treated me for a year, but their treatment did me no good. Finally I became despondent and decided to discontinue their services. My husband purchased a complete set of Cuticura Remedies, which entirely stopped the breaking out. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every splotch was entirely gone and the affected parts left as clear as ever. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema for three years." Mrs. Lizzie E. Sledge, 510 Jones Ave., Selma, Ala., Oct. 28, '05."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to clear the skin and prevent clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads, and most complexion troubles, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to heal the skin, and Cuticura Resolvent Pills (25c. per vial of 60) to purify the blood. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

HAGUE NOTES.

H. H. Clarke Celebrates Birthday. Cotton in Good Condition.

Hague, August 1.—Business in the Hague section is considered good for the season.

Messrs. Grace and Chase will soon begin turning out lumber at their mill. The track is now being laid for the tram-road, and several tenant houses have been erected.

The cotton crop is looking very promising in this section. Fodder-pulling is now the order of the day.

A protracted meeting will begin at Antioch on Saturday and will continue for a week or ten days. Everybody is invited.

The union meeting will be held at Antioch on September 27, 28 and 29. Dinner will be served on the grounds each day. Remember the dates and everybody come and bring your baskets.

Mr. Brown has opened up a stock of dry goods and groceries in the Stucky building. We appreciate his presence among us and hope for him a liberal patronage.

Aaron McKinny, colored, is erecting a building here in which he expects to conduct a restaurant and fish market.

Miss Ethel Rogers of Jacksonville is visiting her sister Mrs. J. H. Stanley of this place. She will spend the remainder of the summer here, which will be pleasant news to her numerous friends.

H. H. Clarke celebrated his eighteenth birthday July 31st. A sumptuous dinner was served and all enjoyed the occasion immensely. There were present Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Boardman, J. W. Hardee and family, T. A. White and family and Robert and Jennings Malphurs. Music was furnished by Master Fred Hardee and R. W. Clarge, and the time passed most pleasantly.

The H. E. Clarke estate, situated in the west end of the county, is now estimated to be worth between $8,000 and $10,000 or more. It contains a heavy belt of fine cedar and cypress and there is also considerable pine timber on it. Experts have recently discovered large deposits of phosphate and koalin on the property, which will naturally make the same more valuable. H. E. Clarke homesteaded the land several years ago, lived to prove it up and then died, leaving it to a widow and two sons. The mother has retained the property since the death of her husband, and says she will retain it until her sons become of age, when she will turn it over to them. The oldest son is now eighteen.

DRANK WHISKEY; DIED FROM EFFECTS

Untimely Ending of Two Extension Laborers on F. E. C. Ry.

LIQUOR BOUGHT FROM RUM BOAT

Men Who Sold the Liquor Being Held in Custody at Key West. Death Pronounced to Have Been Caused by Acute Alcoholism.

(Miami Metropolis, July 30th.)

The remains of Thomas Wilson and Patrick Reilley, extension laborers, are in the undertaking rooms of H. M. King this city, while four men, fellow workmen, are held as prisoners in Key West, awaiting a determination of the cause of their death.

According to information obtainable the four prisoners, who operate a boat plying about the different extension camps selling liquor to the workmen, stopped at Long Key yesterday, disposing of a part of their stock in trade to Wilson, Reilley and others. The men drank freely, but not excessively, of the liquor, and a short time afterwards Wilson and Reilley became unconscious, both dying about four hours after they had first drunk of the liquor.

Death was easy, the men expiring as if going to sleep. Another man named Kelly, who also drank freely of the liquor, showed effects from the same and at midnight last night was acting in a demented condition.

Believing that the liquor had caused the death of the two men, the engineers in charge at Long Key arrested the four men operating the boat from which it had been bought, and sent them to Key West, where they will be held until the exact cause of death has been determined.

At the same time the tug Sybil was made ready and left at midnight last night for Miami, bringing the bodies of Wilson and Reilley. The tug arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning, the corpses being removed at once to the undertaking establishment of H. M. King, where a post mortem examination will be made by Drs. Jackson and Skaggs.

Both of deceased were from New York, and had been in the employ of the railroad company at Long Key for some time. The authorities will give the cause of their death a thorough probing, and if death was due to poison or drugged liquor the four prisoners will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

At the conclusion of the post mortem examination the physicians announced death due to acute alcoholism, and so gave certificates. This does not relieve the possibility that the liquor the men drank contained wood alcohol or other poisonous substances, and a further investigation will be made by analyzing the liquor if samples can be obtained.

The disposition of the bodies has not yet been determined, though it is probable they will be interred here.

In the Mayor's Court.

There was but little doing in the mayor's court yesterday. Sam Cook was up for fighting and being otherwise disorderly. He was fined $2.50 and cost. Arthur Randolph also received the same medicine for same complaint against him.

Hon. T. Albert Jennings of Pensacola will not be a candidate for Governor. He makes the announcement at this time in order to relieve his friends of any obligations they may feel under to him, as business interests prevent him from entering the race. Mr. Jennings is vice-president of the J. P. Williams Co., and owing to the ill health of Mr. Williams, the head of the naval stores and railroad business, the management of this business has practically fallen upon him. In his statement he says that Mr. Williams and those connected with the business assisted him at a period in his life when he was in financial distress, and now that these friends are in need of his assistance, he will not sacrifice their interests for his personal ambition, and will under no condition become a candidate for Governor.

FLORIDA'S DELIGHTFUL SUMMERS

A correspondent of The Titusville Star writes as follows concerning the climate in Florida during the summer months:

"Sometimes in talking with the old settlers they will tell you that the summer months are the most beautiful and pleasant of all the year. That the heat is no more oppressive in the summer months here than it usually is in the North. And then the much enjoyable rainy season, coming as it does in June, July, August and September, at just the time of the year when it is so much needed to give new life to all vegetation.

"When our Northern friends come here, in the winter, they don't stop to think that Florida has her winter months as well as the North, that many of our trees lose their leaves; that the wild flowers are, most of them, missing. But when our rainy season commences, all nature seems to put on new life.

"The gopher holes and the little salamander mounds of yellow sand, so thickly scattered about through the woods, no longer appear to the eye, but all hidden with grasses and beautiful flowers, and everything looks so fresh and green. It is summer time, and the woods are all in bloom, and the birds make music all day.

"And the aroma from the pine trees being brought out by the warm rays of the summer sun. Oh, how healing to one who has weak lungs. Is it any wonder that the poor consumptive soon finds health in our summer months? I am no prophet nor son of a prophet, but I predict that the time is not far distant when fair Florida will be the great sanitarium of the world. I have spent two summers in Florida and a part of the third summer here, and know what it has done for me. With a grateful heart I thank my creator that there is such a place as Florida in the summer time. Through the rainy season here in Florida we have refreshing showers every day, and after a shower is over how refreshing and how lovely all nature seems. With the air purified by our thunder and lightning, one feels like a new man.

"Northern people think it must be very warm here in the summer months, but it is not. Only three times the past year has the thermometer been above 93, and then one can always find a cool place in the shade."

There is a general kick by property owners on Liberty street and Alachua avenue against the assessment for work on the culvert across Sweetwater branch. At least one property owner who has received his bill for this work is authority for the statement that he was assured the assessment per front foot on the property abutting on these streets would not exceed twenty cents, whereas he is charged with nearly thirty cents per foot. It is discriminating against property owners on Liberty street and Alachua avenue to require only those who own property from University street east to pay for this work. Persons owning property on each side of Liberty street from University street west should be required to bear their part of the expense, and not shoulder the whole burden upon a few. In fact the culvert is used so much by the general public that the cost of constructing it should be paid for by general taxation.

The Tribune says Tampa will reach the one hundred thousand mark in population in 1911. If the annexation fever continues and Key West and intermediate territory is added to the corporation limits of the Cigar City, we see no reason why the claim should be doubted.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SERMONETTES

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS.

America for the Americans—no doubt. Americans—not for pirate pirates, greasy bosses, nor for the franchise robbers.

However sweet the harmony, if our lives were full of unbroken song we would find ourselves panting for the hour of perfect soundless silence.

It is always demoralizing to shed one's life in an atmosphere of continual discord. No man can ever be at his best under any such conditions.

If no heavy rain-clouds ever drifted across your sky and shut out the sun for awhile, someday you would long for the splash of the rain in your face.

If each purpose and act expresses the highest standards we know, then any hour may become the gateway to a larger and grander field of opportunity.

Once a kid said that inconsistency was the awful licking he got for telling a story in contrast with his daddy's statement that it hurt the old man worse than the boy. Many a man has wondered over that very same inconsistency.

A competency should be the aim of all men, but the happiest man on the face of the earth today is the one that has the least. Many a man who hardly knows this week where next week's rations will come from may have his heart flooded with the song of happiness.

There is a corruption other than political—other than commercial. There is something dearer to the merchant than gold, more precious to every American than even his liberty. That is—common decency, personal honor, the purity of the innocent, and the sancity of our homes.

IT COSTS MONEY TO MAKE THE RACE

For Governor of Florida In a Primary Election.

TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

Is a Low Estimate of What It Cost Governor Broward to Make His Canvass for the Nomination in 1904.

(Punta Gorda Herald.)

It has been estimated with apparent correctness that Governor Broward's campaign expenses were at least $20,000. He may not have paid that much out of his own pocket but the cost of his two campaigns to himself and friends could not have been less than the sum named.

The Circular Method.

There are about 70,000 voters in Florida and their political bias is not shown by the registration list. The candidate who wishes to reach by printed circulars all the Democratic voters must mail his circulars to voters of all parties, and the postage thereon will be at least $700. The printing will cost $150. Add another $150 for envelopes for folding and addressing. Now do this three times, as may be necessary in a campaign lasting ten months, especially for those running in a second primary. Here is a little item of $3,000 and the candidate has not yet traveled five miles, paid a hotel bill or responded to the demand of one of a horde of a hundred or more grafters.

Transportation Expenses.

A thousand-mile railway ticket will take a man from here to Pensacola and back. The candidate who will be elected by virtue of making a thorough campaign will need about eight of these thousand-mile tickets; cost $260. He will pay out about five times that much for hotel bills for himself and friends, tipping waiters and porters, and he will help build a lot of churches and provide for numerous widows and orphans, as well as impecunious, but deserving and influential voters who need help and in return for the same will carry each and every county in the State.

The newspapers are left out of this list of expenses, but some of them will surely expect as much as a $10 announcement card, and if all of them should get that much apiece, the total would be $1,500.

Oh, it takes a brave man to run in the primaries for Governor of Florida; and when we consider the courage and sacrifices required we think all the candidates for that high office ought to be elected.

And after a man has won out and got the office, what is there in it for him but worry and vanity and vexation of spirit and abuse from those who ought to stand by him?

Here is one man who wouldn't run for Governor, if he had a million dollars and was sure of election.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

Selma, Ala., Aug. 1.—News of a boiler explosion at Lamison, 40 miles below Selma, has been received here. The explosion took place at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Frost Sibley Lumber company. Huston Dumas, night watchman, was killed. Tom Moore, a negro employee of the mill, was struck on the head with a brick when about 100 feet from the boiler. The top of his head was split open. Will Parnell, another negro, was injured by boiling water and his arm was broken. No cause is given for the explosion.

Coming to Georgia.

Macon, Ga., Aug. 1.—A party consisting of over one hundred residents of Connecticut will come to Andersonville, Ga., in October to unveil a monument that has been erected in honor of Connecticut soldiers who lost their lives during the civil war. The party will come by way of Macon.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

IMPURE BLOOD.

If you could see inside the stomachs of most people who suffer from impure blood you would wonder that they are not suffering worse. The undigested portion of food eaten days ago is still living there, fermenting, decaying and clogging the intestines.

LITTLE SON OF MR. HAHN.

From this disgusting mass the blood must derive nourishment to carry to every organ of the body. Think of it. Is it any wonder their complexion is bad, their breath offensive, their bowels inactive and their health impaired in every way? Is it any wonder that they can get no relief from blood purifiers, purgatives when as fast as the blood is cleansed it is tainted again? Try a rational treatment. Take something to help the stomach rid itself of this stagnant mass and to keep it from accumulating. Then see if you don't improve. One bottle of Cooper's New Discovery will prove my words to you. I have seen hundreds of just such cases and here's one of them:

"About a year ago my little son, who is nearly four years of age, suffered an attack of scarlet fever. Soon after he contracted what we thought was some form of eczema. Sores and blotches broke out on him and he became weak and peevish.

"We tried physicians and medicines but nothing seemed to help him until several weeks ago we started to give him Cooper's New Discovery and noticed an improvement almost immediately. After a few doses we noticed his appetite was better and gradually his little face assumed a brighter appearance. His skin is now cleared up and I want to thank you sincerely for what the medicine has done for him." Mrs. Herman Hahn, 823 Johnson St., Nashville, Tenn.

JEROME INVESTIGATING.

District Attorney Probing Into the Armenian Troubles.

New York, Aug. 1.—District Attorney Jerome has taken personal charge of the investigation into the plots of the Armenian blackmailers which led to the assassination of H. S. Tavshanjian and all the forces of the district attorney's office and police department were engaged in efforts to [illegible] that would lead to the arrest of the instigators who are believed to have made their operations under the name of the Hunchakists, the Armenian revolutionary society.

Several Armenians appeared at the district attorney's office and were closely questioned as to methods of the dreaded band of blackmailers, who systematically extorted large sums of money from their wealthy countrymen under threats of death.

Troops Being Withdrawn.

Paris, Aug. 1.—The situation in the south of France, which arose from the discontent of the wine growers has improved to such an extent that the authorities began Wednesday to withdraw the troops sent into the disaffected districts. Furthermore, the government has decided to release on bail M. Ferroul, former mayor of Narborne, Marceline Abert and other leaders of th emovement, who were taken into custody.

Children in Pain

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once. Give it a trial. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Scalded to Death on Gunboat.

Washington, Aug. 1.—A dispatch received at the navy department from Commander Rousa, of the gunboat Wilmington, at Shanghai, says a boiler tube of the vessel burst Tuesday while the vessel was at Nanking. Three men were scalded, one of whom, Fireman Philip Hind, subsequently died. The other two were not seriously burned. Hind was a native of Maryland. Unofficial reports of several deaths from smallpox on the Wilmington have reached the navy department.

ACQUITTED OF CHARGE.

No Blemish on Character of the New York Policeman.

New York, Aug. 1.—Policeman Tracy L. Rossa, one of the two policemen placed on trial on charges of conspiracy in connection with the escape of Murderer Frank H. Warner, has been acquitted of the charge. He proved that there was no blemish on his character as charged and the case was dismissed.

Police Commissioner Bingham took occasion after Rossa's acquittal to make a stirring speech regarding the courage of the fifty or more policemen in attendance in the trial room. He said:

"You men all know that we cannot stand for any white feathers or any yellow streaks or any cowardice on this force, and we don't have to. Almost without exception for thirty years there has not been proved a charge of cowardice against any man on this force, and it is the duty of you men to see that proud record is carried out."

THE PRISONS IN CHINA

Fearful State of the Criminals Confined in Them.

ALL PRISONERS FETTERED.

Some From Cruelty Become in Appearance as Wild as Beasts of the Forest. Punishment, For Purposes of Extortion, That Kills Many.

The first thing which impresses the European visitor to the Chinese prison is the absolutely filthy character of the structure itself. If one gets permission to visit the prison in Canton, and chunks of globe trotters do prowl their way thither after they have seen the execution ground, it will be found to be a ramshackle building of no pretense whatsoever.

The question will be asked, "By what means are the prisoners held in safety if the structures in which they are incarcerated are so flimsy and insecure?" The answer, says the East and Asia Magazine, is brief. Without exception the prisoners are fettered. Many have chains on the legs only. These are the least dangerous and have been guilty of the less important crimes. Others, in addition, have fetters on the arms, which make it impossible for them to escape.

Lastly, a few prisoners were not only shackled on the ankles, but wore a collar around their necks, at the dangling end of which was attached a block of granite. The prisoner would walk from place to place within the courtyard, but ere he could move beyond the length of his chain he must stop and lift the stone and, carrying it in his shackled arms, drop it again where he wished to stop.

In addition to the chains worn by many, all the male prisoners are further shackled at night. By means of two heavy beams, in which holes have been made for the ankles of the prisoners, a most effective method is discovered for detaining the prisoners in absolute security.

These prisoners, who during the day have been loafing in the courtyard, are in the evening driven into the cells and made to lie side by side on a raised platform. The upper of the two beams is then raised, and each man is compelled to place his ankle in the hole made to receive it, whereupon the upper beam is replaced, and the prisoners are held by the feet in these stocks. There is no possibility of escape. They are allowed bricks for pillows, and in this uncomfortable position they pass the hours.

In addition to this, however, special punishments are perpetrated on certain prisoners who, for some reason or other, are exempted from capital punishment. Prisoners there are whose appearance becomes as wild as the beasts of the forest; who, with heavy chains on their shoulders, are incarcerated in a filthy dungeon for the rest of their natural lives. I have seen them moving to and fro like caged animals in their dens at a menagerie. Their appearance is revolting.

Night and day, as far as I remember, they clank and swelter, this heavy burden resting on their shoulders, though how it was possible to sleep therein I was unable to understand. On the second floor in a prison I visited a few years ago I was informed that the chains were removed at nights that the prisoners might sleep. A crowd in the prison courtyards, with their unshaven faces, their unwashed faces, their emaciated forms, their hopeless looks, their diseased bodies and their bebrutalized souls, can never be forgotten.

But although under the recognized system of punishment Chinese prisoners must live a life which to us of the west would be unbearable, it would not be cruel to them if they were fairly treated and were saved from the exactions and harassings to which they are exposed at the hands of their rapacious keepers.

When a prisoner first goes into the prison the wardens claim his clothes and his money, and he is left with the barest rags to cover his nakedness. He is robbed of all his cash, as a matter of course. Those who are condemned are compelled, under a threat of the whip, to write begging letters to their relatives requesting them to forward money.

If the unfortunate man hesitates to accede to this demand, the warders, assisted by some of the oldest prisoners—for it appears that inmates of more than twenty years' residence have accorded them certain privileges—take the man in hand during the night. The hands of the prisoners are fastened by a rope, and the other end of the rope is then passed through a ring which hangs from the roof of the cell.

The warders then hoist the unhappy victim, who is left hanging in midair by the hands. Should he attempt to cry out his mouth and throat are filled with grime. When the breath has almost left his body and he is choking he is lowered, and under the terror of repeated of this torture he is eager to promise almost anything.

HOW BONNER WON SUCCESS

The career of Robert Bonner, the veteran publisher, furnishes a signal illustration of the value of persistent and sagacious advertising. When he began the publication of the paper whose phenomenal success brought him fame and fortune, he did not wait for the people to find out, slowly and gradually, the interesting features of his journal.

He forced his enterprise upon public attention by a systematic lavishness of expenditure for advertising which at that time was without precedent or parallel. Whole pages of daily newspapers were secured at high prices to blazon forth the merits of his undertaking.

From one end of the country to the other the names of Bonner and his Ledger were made familiar to the people by constant repetition.

Conservative publishers, jogging along in the ruts of old routine, prophesied bankruptcy and ruin for this unconventional innovator, but Bonner kept on spending a large share of his receipts in buying publicity, and these receipts increased with startling rapidity.

Every dollar disbursed in this way brought in more dollars until croakers were confounded and pessimists in this particular branch of business silenced by his tremendous success.

The lesson is one that is as well worth heeding today as it was forty years ago.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Animal Suicides.

One of the most frequent causes of loss of animals in a circus menagerie is suicide, of which there are numerous well authenticated cases. In speaking of this characteristic a trainer who has been constantly associated with wild beasts for more than forty years says: "The instinct for self destruction is common among all kinds of animals, and the causes are in many instances the same as usually impel a man or woman to take his or her life. Probably the most pronounced of these causes are loneliness, homesickness, loss of companions or progeny and ill health. There are animals that periodically have a return of the suicidal mania and that can be saved from self destruction only by the most intelligent and careful treatment. As a rule, however, when the animal has made up its mind, so to speak, to commit suicide nothing can prevent it, and the keeper, not only for reasons of humanity, but also because an animal in that condition is extremely dangerous, often is compelled to end its sufferings by hastening its death."—Spare Moments.

Moved the Audience.

"Did you notice how I moved the audience last night?" asked the amateur elocutionist.

"Moved isn't the proper name for it," rejoined his critical friend. "It was little short of a stampede."

Comparatively.

Towne—Yes, my wife is able to dress on comparatively little money. Browne—Oh, come now! Comparatively little? Towne—I mean on little compared with what she thinks she ought to have.

WATER WAS NOT POPULAR.

Some Queer Views of Its Use Three Centuries Ago.

It needed a very bold man to resist the medical testimony of three centuries ago against water drinking. Few writers can be found to say a good word for it. One or two only are concerned to maintain that, "when begun in early life, it may be freely drunk with impunity," and they quote the curious instance given by Sir Thomas Elyot in his "Castle of Health," 1541, of the Cornishmen, "many of the poorer sort, which never, or very seldom, drink any other drink, be notwithstanding strong of body and like and live well until they be of great age." Thomas Cogan, the medical schoolmaster of Manchester fame, confessed in his "Haven of Health," 1589, designed for the use of students, that he knew some who drink cold water at night or fasting in the morning without hurt, and Dr James Hart, writing about fifty years later, could even claim among his acquaintance "some honorable and worshipful ladies who drink little other drink, and yet enjoy more perfect health than most of them that drink the strongest." The phenomenon was undeniable, but the natural inference was none the less to be resisted.

Sir Thomas Elyot himself is very certain, in spite of the Cornishmen, that "there be in water causes of divers diseases, as of swelling of the spleen and liver." He complains oddly also that "it flitteth and swimmeth," and concludes that "to young men, and them that be of hot complexions, it doeth less harm, and sometimes it profiteth, but to them that are feeble, old and melancholy it is not convenient." "Water is not wholesome cool by itself for an Englishman," was the version of Andrew Borde—monk, physician, bishop, ambassador and writer on sanitation—as the result of a life's experience. And to quote the "Englishman's Doctor:"

Both water and small beer, we make no question,
Are enemies to health and good digestion.

But the most formal indictment against water is that of Venner, who, writing in 1622, ponderously pronounces "to dwellers in cold countries it doth very greatly deject their appetites, destroy the natural heat and overthrow the strength of the stomach."—London Telegraph.

Unconscious of Fame.

George Grote, the famous author of the "History of Greece," long the standard on that subject, was a man of great simplicity and was wholly unconscious of his own celebrity. Several anecdotes illustrative of this fact are given in "Some Famous Women of Wit and Beauty," one of whom is Mrs. Grote.

While Mr. Grote was walking in the [illegible] would perhaps notice that one persons looked at him with [illegible]. He would at once wife in alarm.

"I got any dirt on my face.

"Is there anything the matter [illegible]?" and he would clutch his hair with both hands.

"Why are those people looking at me?"

Mrs. Grote's proud answer was, "Because you are George Grote, that's all!"

Once when he was on a visit to Cambridge Grote wished to see the professor of natural history, but was told that the professor was so busy dissecting something that he could not be interrupted, "strong magnifying power, powerful light, shirt sleeves up, cannot be bothered with anybody." The meekest historian would have retired, but his wife persisted that it was Mr. Grote who wished to see the professor.

"What?" he cried. "Mr. Grote? Give me my coat. I must wash my hands." In a minute he had transformed himself and would not let them go for two hours.

The Size of Eve.

The Talmud says (see Baring-Gould's "Legends of the Patriarchs and Prophets") that Adam was so tall he "could stand with his feet on the earth and his head in heaven," and that "God pressed him down at the time of the fall." The Arabs say that Adam was 312 feet high, and that Eve was exactly 266 feet from the soles of her feet to the crown of her head. The same people also claim that Eve's tomb may be seen at Jeddah, a seaport of Mecca, and that its great size (250 feet in length and 17 in breadth) bears them out in the assertion that she was the most gigantic woman the earth has ever known or will ever know. On each 21st of June, the anniversary of the death of Adam, according to Arabian tradition, the door of the temple which has been built at the entrance to this gigantic tomb of our first mother stays open all night in spite of the efforts of the keepers to close it, and the most terrible cries of anguish issue from the sepulcher of the giantess, who has been sleeping more than 6,000 years.

Blood Medicine.

"The duke's marriage to the American was a bitter pill for his family to swallow."

"That is the way with medicine for impoverished blood."
